MONTCLAIR STATE COLLEGE
Upper Montclair, New Jersey

IRVIN D. REID

President, Montclair State College

Irvin D. Reid assumed the presidency of Montclair State College in August 1989, becoming the seventh executive of New Jersey's largest state college.

Dr. Reid holds Ph.D. and master's degrees in business and applied economics from The Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. He earned a bachelor's degree and another master's, both in experimental psychology, from Howard University. He also studied at Harvard University's Institute for Educational Management, conducted for senior university administrators by the Graduate Schools of Education and Business.

At the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga since 1979, Dr. Reid was dean of the School of Business Administration and John Stagmaier Professor of Economics and Business Administration for the past six years. During that time, he worked with the chancellor and vice chancellor for development and increased the total endowment for the business school sixteenfold, raised the school to the highest number of endowed chairs of excellence and professorships in business schools in the state, and was instrumental through increased external support in more than tripling the number of faculty supported by endowed chairs and other endowments.

Dr. Reid designed and initiated the university's first summer study abroad program in Europe. In addition, he implemented a faculty fellows program in which faculty serve internships in industry and designed a joint liberal arts/business program. Prior to becoming dean, Dr. Reid was head of the Department of Marketing and Business Law and Alan Lorberbaum Professor and Professor of Business Administration on the Chattanooga campus. Previously, he had been an associate professor of marketing in Howard University's School of Business and Public Administration.

Dr. Reid has also served as full-time consultant to the United States Consumer Product Safety Commission and was a senior staff specialist in marketing and economic research to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA). He was assistant professor of marketing at Drexel University and lecturer in psychology at the Philadelphia College of Art and St. Joseph's College, all in Philadelphia.

Dr. Reid served as President of the Southern Business Administrators Association Executive Committee. He organized a symposium on "New Opportunities in Marketing" for the American Institute for Decision Sciences and participated in a number of programs on global education. Dr. Reid also serves as a member of the board of National Westminster Bank and the Ready Foundation. He chairs the International Trade Committee of the Newark Chamber of Commerce and serves as an at large member of the Essex County Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

A Word From . . .
Dr. S. Desai

The new beginning is a period of excitement and enthusiasm. It gives us an opportunity to reflect and to commit to the missions of the college.

A Word From Dr. Newman

It's a good and refreshing change to bring in a new president and to establish and reaffirm institutional agendas. I think morale and growth will increase if we embrace the change openly, honestly, and with commitment.

A Word From . . . Dr. Cohen

New beginnings are necessary to move the college forward, to meet new challenges and to reach new horizons. Traditions are important but colleges have to change to respond to changing student populations. Montclair is a great institution because it has always responded to change; I believe it will continue to do so in the future. The ability to adapt is what accounts for our successful role in education.

A Word from . . .

Dr. Vandergrift

I feel we are a University already; it's good to recognize it. Two new deans, myself included, new programs — Biochemistry and Molecular Biology (pending) and a local area computing network are new. We are definitely adding things on to a very solid base. I'm glad to be back at my alma mater. I'm pleased with the students and faculty which are well deserved of national reputation. From what I can see, it will continue to improve. With a new administration, there would be a new slope of enthusiasm.

A Word From . . . Dr. Michelli

I hope that as we move into the new beginning we won't forget the part and the history of excellence this college represents. It's always exciting to have new ideas and new programming and we are excited about working on the present priorities.

The Homecoming parade was the biggest and best yet. Everyone had a ball making and presenting their floats. Fun was had by all who attended the hayrides and the bonfire.

Moving Right Along . . .

"I have only been with Montclair State Athletics for three years now, but I can say honestly that what I have seen the last year and a half with the new Red Hawk nickname has been a rejuvenated student body with a new-found pride for its athletics. It has been exciting to see the attendance at the home games increase, and the overall awareness of the sports program improved. There is not another state school in NJ that has a mascot following that equals MSC, and the Red Hawk nickname has only begun."

— A. Langer, SID

Among the many changes seen throughout Montclair State College this year was a new mascot. The original mascot, the Indians, was viewed as derogatory towards Native American Indians, and a new mascot was sought. Through a contest to come up with a name and logo, the mascot was chosen. Over 150 entries were submitted, and a committee decided on the final name. Holly Gera, the Director of Campus Recreation, came up with the winning name. Holly thought the red-tailed hawk was an appropriate mascot for the college. Upper Montclair is one of the best locations to find the red-tailed hawk. The red feathers of this species of the hawk also enabled the school colors, red and white, to remain the same. Al Langer, Sports Information director, feels that it was a positive move for the college and has "brought awareness of Montclair Athletics." Overall, the athletic department appears satisfied with the new mascot, as do most of the spectators of the Red Hawk sports.

— Michelle Etter

"The organizations at Montclair State College provide an excellent opportunity for students to test their abilities. The range of organizations affect all facets of the campus and the student population."

Graduation is the symbolic icing on the cake. Every passing (and failing) grade, every all-nighter, every friendship, every experience in your college career — good or bad — is capped off in the one day you turn your tassel and are told "Welcome to the real world."

This year's Spring Week was the best! The Second Annual Drive-in was more successful than last year's! Being at the Carnival every night was an experience that I'll always cherish.

WATCH YOUR STEP

... I'll set out to be curious,
wide-eyed and free,
ambitious and contradictory.
I'll take my hopes and my despair,
look at them and learn,
and share with anyone who will listen ...
— Verse by Valerie Kalfrin

THE NEW YEARBOOK

A New Beginning

Well, the 1990 edition of LA CAMPANA is done. Right now I'm sitting in an empty office with tons of pictures and layout material in front of me. Boy, what a summer. We basically started out with nothing. No Advisor or Publishing company, but HEY, WE DID IT! We now have an incredible advisor, Mr. Andy Krupa, and a really thoughtful lady, even though we ruined her social life — Sharon Bodnarchuk. Sorry Sharon, but HEY, we had fun! Right?

This was my first year as Editor-in-Chief and I'm proud to say it is not my last. Yes, that's right, I'm here for one more year as Editor.

Last semester when I took over as Editor I was honored. I wasn't too thrilled about the events that happened before my taking over, but things are different now. It wasn't much fun, however, trying to bail out a dying yearbook. The last couple of years LA CAMPANA has gone through many organizational and content problems and it was questionable whether LA CAMPANA would be around next year. With the help of my new executive board, Karen, Janine, Nancy and other key members, I was able to pull us out of that rut we were in with incredible results, but we still have a way to go. I really won't be satisfied until I see positive reactions to this new Yearbook. Remember that it is impossible to please everyone all of the time, but also understand we tried to with what we had.

To sum up the ramblings of a new Editor, Congratulations to the 1990 graduates for a job well done and much luck in the future.

Also thanks to the most important aspect of the yearbook, and to me that is the staff. You guys are great! You know who you are.

Everyone's Pal,

Russell T. Blackwell
Editor-in-Chief,
LA CAMPANA

P.S. I would like to Co-Dedicate this book. First, to my great staff, WE DID IT!!! And second (But Really First), to my MOM. She did and still does a million and one things to help me through everyday life.

I REALLY LOVE YOU MOM!!!

The 1989-90 Yearbook represents the commitment of students to students. A small staff of students working under much pressure, constraints and public skepticism; met during the summer and produced this memorabilia.

Why, during a time of year when most of us enjoy swimming, going on vacation, relaxing . . . did they dedicate themselves? I think the answer is clear. They felt a need and responsibility to show the MSC college community that the La Campana can be viable, sensitive and representative.

Thank you Russell, Kevin, Lisa, Karen, Alison, Jarrett, Fred, Christine and Nancy.

Good luck with next year's book.

La Campana, Yearbook
Advisor:

Andrew R. Krupa

If an organization was not pictured we apologize, however, we, the staff of La Campana, contacted all organizations by two letters, and by phone. In the case of a "no response," we went with information that we had.

If you are not satisfied with this publication, just remember . . . the staff gave up their summer and this was the best that we could do under the circumstances.

The La Campana door is always open! If there is a problem, feel free to stop in and let us know so that we can prevent it from happening again.
